

CRANFIELD PARISH COUNCIL

Planning Statement of Intent

- The Cranfield Parish Council has no preconceptions when reviewing at Planning Applications.
- Cranfield Parish Council recognises Central Bedfordshire Council as the planning authority and, therefore, the decision maker. Cranfield Parish Council is a statutory consultee in the planning process and makes comments on planning applications, which will be taken into consideration by the planning authority.
- The Parish Council will review each and every planning application on its own merit.
- There are no set criteria that will be applied when reviewing planning applications.
- The Parish Council will be mindful of community engagement and will consider what level of engagement is appropriate based upon the planning application being reviewed.
- The Parish Council will be mindful of the needs and wants of the residents of Cranfield when responding to Central Bedfordshire Council consultations on the provision of services through s106 agreements.
